The Soule/Seabury House at Tiverton Four Corners, RI

This was the home of Abner Soule and his wife Dorcas Seabury. Abner's father was Cornelius Soule who was born in Dartmouth, MA and raised within the Apponagansett Quaker Community.

Behind the house on the right is the blacksmith shop used by Abner's son, Christopher Soule.

This line is George, George, Nathan, Cornelius, Abner. Christopher was one of several surviving children. Christopher had both a daughter and a son. The daughter married in RI and the son, John, went to Maine, according to emergent research. The Four Corners area is on the National Register of Historic Places.

A note from long time SK member George Alan Soule shares with his cousins the news that will again be going to the Wordsworth Winter School in Grasmere, Cumbria, UK where he has lectured for the past five years. George will round out his trip with visits to Cambridge and London.

Last March Charles Beal completed a project locating, documenting and GPS tagging the gravesites of 790 Civil War veterans buried in Orange County, CA. His work was placed on the website of the Santa Ana Historical Preservation Society. Also an article was published in Point of Beginning, a professional land surveying magazine.

Reunion Extras:
Soule Homestead
Middleborough, MA
by Susan Fogg Eisdorfer

If your Soules hailed from Middleborough, then you might want to build some time into your reunion schedule to visit the Soule Homestead. That line goes George, John, James, Jacob, William, etc. To see if a visit would be relevant to your connections, you can start by visiting the website at www.soulehomestead.org. Even if this is not direct your line, the Homestead is a lovely place to visit and a genuine part of the Soule heritage we all, as George Soule descendants, strive so hard to preserve. Much of the work to preserve the Homestead was done by founding members of Soule Kindred who are now deceased, but left an enduring legacy for us to enjoy. §

Learning More and Loving It!
by Susan Fogg Eisdorfer

"Genealogy begins as an interest, develops into a hobby, progresses to a passion, engulfs into an obsession and culminates as a terminal disease."

Anonymous

Does the above quote sound at all to familiar to you? Once bitten by the bug, where does a budding genealogist go to learn more? If you are blessed to have a relative who is also interested, you can team up to share the burdens and joys of searching for your common ancestors. More often, you may find yourself to be the only one in your family who cares about connecting the generations. Is there hope for you? Absolutely, yes.

First of all, look for a local genealogy society. Often these groups hold monthly meetings that allow you to connect with other researchers and to partake in various presentations pertaining to the many aspects of genealogy. Check with your local library for a start. The local historical society is also a possibility.

Next, look for groups specific to your area of research. Many of us who have been in this country for a long time may have lines reflecting several different ethnicities. My lines include Scots, to name just one, as well as my English Mayflower heritage. You may find that joining a group like the New England Historic Genealogical Society helps your work. Attending local, regional or national workshops and conferences may give you just what you need and there are many choices available. For example, NEHGS offers such events throughout the year. Just go to their website www.newenglandancestors.org to learn more. Check out courses that may be provided through your local adult school or community college. If none are offered request that your local schools do so.

Also, consider the potential of online courses. This is a burgeoning area in genealogy education and has many advantages. One source is the National Genealogical Society. Another possibility is the National Institute for Genealogical Studies which is run jointly with the Faculty of Information Studies at the University of Toronto. There are many courses available including certificate programs in American Records. Most courses are six to eight weeks long and allow a great deal of flexibility in terms of posting assignments and taking exams. Assignments are submitted online or can be sent in via fax.

In addition, there are periodic online class chats with an instructor to discuss aspects of selected courses as a group. This is quite an interesting experience, since your classmates may be anywhere in the world. It is not unusual to encounter someone from Australia, for example. The instructors are all of good quality and well known in their field. Each year the institute offers a trip to the Family History Library in Salt Lake City. This is often an easier and more pleasant way to do it, rather than traveling alone. There are also trips to the National Archives of Canada in Ottawa.

Students can select individual courses or purchase a package of courses leading to a basic, intermediate or advanced certificate in genealogical studies. For those intent on developing their skills to the professional level, completion of the forty course program leads to a Professional Learning Certificate in Genealogical Studies and the right to put PLCGS after your name.

The website for the NGS courses is as follows: www.ngsgenealogy.org. There is not the broad range of offerings that NIGS has, but it is an excellent way for a beginner new to this kind of education to get started. The site for NIGS can be found at www.genealogicalstudies.com.

A very special alternative to all that has been previously discussed is a genealogy cruise. Excursions are provided by famous cruise lines and offer everything that a good vacation does, plus an in-gathering with some of the most famous names in the field. These events have been run very successfully for several years by genealogy software makers such as Wholly Genes (The Master Genealogist) and Millenium Corporation, the makers of Legacy. Imagine sitting in with Elizabeth Shown Mills, Robert Charles Anderson and Dick Eastman, for example. Also, you can learn to better use your software program. Destinations vary year by year, so check the websites for more information. For the Wholly Genes site go to www.whollygenes.com. For Legacy go to www.legacyfamilytree.com. The Legacy tour for this year sails to Europe, while the Wholly Genes cruise will sail to the eastern Caribbean. §

BOOK REVIEW
by Judy Hughes

The Times of Their Lives: Life, Love, Death in the Plymouth Colony by James Deetz and Patricia Scott Deetz; published in 2000 by Anchor Books.

This thoughtful, provocative, creative, and inclusive book will appeal to the interests of many. The soft-covered version containing 291 pages of text, plus an additional 60 pages of sources and notes filled with meticulous detail about all aspects of the Plymouth Colony. Dr. James Deetz, the late noted author and professor of historic archeology and his wife, a cultural historian, carefully referenced this work frequently, including excerpts from other respected works about Pilgrim life in the new colony.

Many quality graphic representations, including photos of art pieces, maps, and sketches, are found throughout the book. Decades of research in this exhaustive study from multiple diverse perspectives debunk a plethora of myths. A very different picture of the first Thanksgiving is painted for the reader.

The book is a meld of historical archeology, anthropology, material culture, and social history that explains how our ancestors in the Plymouth Colony actually lived. Many direct quotes from the colonists are extracted from original documents and included.

A detailed account of the evolution of today's Plimoth Plantation is given by Dr. Deetz and his wife, noted historians and local experts, and many archeology students across several decades yet the book is easy to read and very interesting. Myths, folklore, and traditional thinking about the lives of the early colonists are debunked through the use of documentation, artifacts, and archeological evidence citing how they truly lived. The clothing worn by our ancestors, their eating and drinking habits, and their belief in witches, for example, are thoroughly described in the detail. Moral transgressions and criminal trespasses against their neighbors are revealed through court transcripts and probate records. Correct terminology from that era is used throughout.

Chapters focus on the early years, the infrastructure and

RES. OF JAMES E. CHASE,
CHESHIRE, ONTARIO CO., N.Y.

JAMES E. CHASE

HISTORY OF ONTARIO COUNTY NEW YORK 1878

by Mc Intosh

J. E. Chase - None repent the diligence of their youth nor applaud their own idleness; but the pleasure of retrospection is the memory of time well spent. It is not that J. E. Chase was born in Montgomery county, New York, but a natural desire to learn how by inherent energy a man destitute of property has finally reached a competence, and what striking points mark a new departure destined to result in ultimate success. The loss of a parent has generally a double significance - a deprivation of valuable companionship and the cessation of support. It was in this sense that Mrs. Chase, mother of J. E., was left in 1818 with three small children, and dependent upon human sympathy. Years went by and many a privation was experienced, and powerfully were the lessons of diligence and self-denial impressed upon the character. In the year 1839, J. E. Chase was united in marriage to Miss Julia Lake, of Essex County, New York. Two years later he removed to Hopewell, Ontario County, and in 1843 became a resident of Canandaigua. A comparison of the past with the present exhibits a contrast between a young man just married arriving in this county with but three-quarters of a dollar with which to begin the battle of life, and the present owner of a fine farm of two hundred acres of good land free from encumbrance. Three qualities have been potent to secure this happy result, - industry, sobriety, and religion. The early settler in Ontario, while his deprivations were greater, had his land at nominal rates; but he who could become the owner of a farm of two hundred acres, beginning with an empty pocket and only a hopeful mind as late as 1843, had full occasion to illustrate that industry which, connected with abstinence from an unhealthy and destructive stimulus, will almost invariably result in prosperity. Mr. Chase embraced religion in early life, and has found its consolations a great comfort under severe trials, through which his life has passed. He can confidently recommend a search for this wisdom, as "above rubies," and not to be compared in value with aught temporal and earthly.

Parental Lineage: (1) William Chase/Mary (1st person of the name Chase who emigrated to the United States); (2) William Chase/Elizabeth Holder, (3) Joseph Chase/ Sarah Sherman, (4) Stephen Chase/Esther Buffington, (5) Benjamin Chase/ Elizabeth Durfee, (6) Joseph Chase/ Sylvia Sowle, (7) James Chase, (8) James E. Rebecca Soule (Sowle), Mother of James E. Chase by Janet Sowles Carper

I decided I would try to prove more information on Rebecca Sowle a sister to my ancestor Stephen Sowle. Whenever I would look at the 1820 Saratoga Co, NY census, I always felt that the Rebecca Chase listed beneath Nathaniel Sowle was his daughter, so I started my research by referring back to Nathaniel Sowle's biography, stating, David Sowl of Hagedorn' Mill and Rebecca Allen of Amsterdam were the only living children of eight. The 1850 census-Fulton Co, Town of Perth, NY had a William and Rebecca Allen with children: Olive Johnson 29, Phebe A. Butler 17, Bradford Butler 14, Daniel Butler 12. In the book, George Soule of the Mayflower 5th and 6th generations, page 24 has Rebecca being married to Daniel Butler and -----Allen. From my research and the age of the children that I know are Rebecca Sowle's children, her marriages are as follows: 1st James Chase, 2nd Daniel Butler, 3rd William Allen. I was sure this Rebecca Allen was Rebecca Sowle, but I had to prove what her maiden name was since her name was not mentioned in her son's biography. The 1860 and 1870 census showed William and Rebecca Allen in Fond Du Lac Co, WI, after that I could not find them. I called the library in that area, they said there was no death record for either of them. I finally got in contact with, Kevin Andrew Cotter in Cheshire, Ontario Co, NY who manages the records of the Church where James E. Chase was a deacon. Kevin told me that James E. Chase was buried in the Pine Bank Cemetery and gave me the dates on his stone. Kevin is sure that Rebecca (Sowle) Allen is buried next to her son, but her stone is missing. I know Rebecca died at her son's home from the death notice in the Ontario County Journal, 24 February 1888, Cheshire, NY, Mrs. Rebecca Allen died at the residence of her son, James E. Chase, in this village, Monday evening. She was ninety-one years old and the oldest person here. Rebecca's death certificate also confirms her place of death as Town of Canandaigua, Cheshire, NY. The information on her death certificate is as follows: Date of Death: February 20, 1888; Place of Death: Town of Canandaigua (Cheshire); Full Name of Deceased: Rebecca Soules Allen; Widowed; Age: 91y 3m 20d; Birthplace: Rhode Island. James E. Chase's death certificate states: Date of Death: December 3, 1901; Place of Death: Town of Canandaigua; Full Name of Deceased: James E. Chase; Age: 83y; Occupation: Farmer; Birthplace: Amsterdam, NY; Father's Name: James Chase; Maiden Name of Mother: Rebecca Allen (Allen was her married name); Mother's Birthplace: New York State; Buried at: Canandaigua, NY. I went to the Allen County Public Library to possibly find marriage information for James Chase and Rebecca Sowle. Sure enough, there was a book titled, Genealogy of the Ancestors and Descendents of Joseph Chase, Who Died in Swanzey, on page 37 was the family of, Joseph Chase and wife Sylvia Sowle. Children: Stephen, b. March 3, 1784, m. Sarah Phillips, July 20, 1806; Elizabeth, b. May 7, 1785, m. John Phillips; Joseph, b. Oct 31, 1786, m. Catharine Phillips; James, b. July 28, 1792, m. Rebecca Sowle; Mary, b. Oct 15, 1795; Isaac, b. June 16, 1799, m. Lamira Brown, July 10, 1825; Silvia, b. Aug 17, 1802, m. William Dyer, Aug 27, 1827; Chloe, b. Oct 19, 1804; Rue, b. June 1, 1806, m. Alexander Furgerson.

Lineage of Sylvia Soule (Sowle): (1) George Soule, (2) Nathaniel Soule, (3) Sylvanus Soule, (4) William Soule/Jemima Baker, (5) Joseph Soule/Charity Tripp, (6) Sylvia Soule, James E. Chase and his siblings are related to the Soule's twice. Sylvia Soule and Rebecca Soule/Sowle were 1st cousins. Sylvia Soule's lineage descends from, (4) William and Jemima Baker and Rebecca Soule's lineage descends from, (4) William and Keziah Gifford (William married twice). Joseph and Nathaniel Soule were either brothers or half brothers. This genealogy is not conclusive; I have seen Joseph listed as the son of both Jemima and Keziah.
